

KING EDWARD VI SCHOOL

LICHFIELD

Dear Parents/Guardians and Students,

On Friday 13th March the School Council would like to support the Comic Relief Red Nose Day campaign in line with the theme for this year 'Make Your Face Funny For Money'.

We would like students to contribute at least £1 and come in to school with a 'funny face'. Students could wear a red nose, paint their face or wear unusual make-up. Wigs, beards, comedy glasses or moustaches are all possibilities.

For students who would like to have their face painted at school there will be an opportunity at break for some simple face-painting for an additional contribution of £1.50. This will take place in Room 10 at break time. Although all materials used will be suitable for use on the face, any student who is sensitive to face paint or particular types of make-up or skin products is advised not to apply any unfamiliar products to their face.

There will also be a selfie-competition. The person or persons with the funniest face in the photo will win a prize. Entries should be dropped in the box at Bader reception by 1pm on Friday 13th March and the winning entrant will be announced by no later than Monday 16th March. Please ensure that names and tutor groups are written on the reverse so we can identify the winners.

Students are expected to wear ordinary uniform on this day so they will need to think of creative ways to stand out from the crowd.

Any student with further suggestions on fundraising for Comic Relief should speak to their form tutor or a member of the Senior Five.

Our aim is to raise at least £1500 to support important work in the UK and around the world. Please support us.

Yours sincerely,

The Senior Five
